Transformation of Capitalism

Total Award: $200,000 over 12 Months

Organization: www.policylink.org

Project: web.mit.edu/colab

Board Level\Core

To support the Transformation of Capitalism initiative, a project of Policy Link and MIT. The project employs contemplative and other practices to examine the root causes of the current ecological and economic crises and explore alternatives to mainstream economic theory. The initiative brings together economists, business leaders, banking and financial experts, officials of international organizations and others to develop and disseminate politically salient ideas and prototypes. In its second full year the initiative will produce a book, web site and other materials in response to the current historic opportunity to shape workable solutions to climate change, poverty and the global economic crisis.
