Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts, Inc.

(New York, NY)

Harmony Atrium Project

Total Award: $35,000 over 1 year

Organization: www.lincolncenter.org

To support Lincoln Center's planning initiative in preparation for creating a visitor information center in the Harmony Atrium, an underused and privately-owned public space in the Lincoln Center vicinity. With the cooperation of neighborhood representatives and the Harmony Atrium's building owner, Lincoln Center seeks to transform the Harmony Atrium into an information center, using interactive technology, for cultural activities at Lincoln Center and in its surrounding neighborhood; a place for performing arts presentations, all free and open to the public; and redesigned areas for public seating, eating, and gathering. This would serve as a model for developing and improving similar privately-owned public spaces (POPS) throughout New York City.
